Version 1.5 · Effective 1 April 2026

Covers: fraud, bribery, financial misstatement, data misuse, safety violations, harassment, and breaches of law or the Code of Conduct. Channels: Ethics hotline: ethics@nimbus.example. Anonymous web form, hosted by a third party. Direct to the Chair of the Audit Committee for concerns involving senior management. Handling: Acknowledged within 3 days. Investigated by the Ethics Committee (General Counsel, Head of People, CFO). Target closure within 45 days. Protection: identity kept confidential; protection against retaliation, demotion or termination. Bad-faith false reports are disciplinary matters. Reporting: quarterly summary to the Audit Committee.

Purpose. Gives a safe channel for raising serious concerns without fear of retaliation.

What is not covered. Personal grievances such as pay, ratings or manager disputes. Use the HR grievance process for those.

How to make a good report. Include:

what happened, with dates and people involved. where the evidence is. how you know.

You don't need proof, but you do need a reasonable belief.

Investigation. Independent of the reported person's reporting line. External investigators may be appointed. The reporter receives an outcome summary; confidentiality limits may apply.

Protection examples. If a whistleblower is:

moved off a project,. rated down, or. excluded shortly after reporting,.

the manager must justify it to the Ethics Committee.

Record keeping. Reports and investigation files are kept for 8 years with restricted access.

Revision history. 1.5 (2026): Third-party anonymous hotline introduced.

Signed,
Ethics Committee
